

Leibniz
Universität
Hannover

The School of Economics and Management of the Leibniz Universität Hannover invites applications for a

University Professorship (Salary Scale W 3 NBesO) in Health Economics

starting 01. October 2017.

The School of Economics and Management is home to the BMBF-funded and prestigious Center for Health Economics Research (CHERH). We are seeking to appoint a Professor of Health Economics who has experience in raising research funds and the potential to apply for highly ranked research programs. The successful applicant shows a strong record of research with publications in leading journals of the field. He or she is expected to actively contribute to the School's research cluster "Health, Labour and Population" and to collaborate with Hannover Medical School (MHH).

Candidates must have a Ph.D. and their qualifications are expected to merit the rank of tenured full professor. They should have an established record of successful teaching, especially in PhD and master courses.

Conditions of appointment are in accordance with § 25, Niedersachsen Higher Education Act (NHG).

Part-time employment can be arranged on request.

As an equal opportunities employer, Leibniz Universität Hannover has set itself the strategic aim of significantly increasing the proportion of women. Female scientists are therefore particularly encouraged to apply. Applications from abroad are especially welcome. Equally qualified candidates with disabilities will be given preference.

In its mission statement, Leibniz Universität Hannover attaches great importance to the international orientation of teaching and research. At the same time, it places major value on the intensive guidance and support of its students and on the university's close ties to the region and to Niedersachsen. Its professors are thus expected to take up residence in the Region of Hannover.

Successful candidates who have reached the age of fifty by the time of appointment and who do not already have civil servant status will be given an employment contract.

Further information is available from the Head of the Appointment Committee Prof. Dr. Axel Haunschild, call +49 - 511 762 4218, axel.haunschild@wa.uni-hannover.de.

Please submit your full application (E-Mails are welcome) by May 7th, 2017 to Leibniz Universität Hannover
